time for (real) change?

A planning group to develop a campaign for REAL change

Campaign Working Group

1.00 - 4.30pm, Saturday 26 September 2015
@ Freedom From Torture,
111 Isledon Road, London N7 7JW

In April we hosted a free event to bring together a wide range of people and organisations concerned with the current paradigm of pathologising and labelling human experiences and understandable reactions to trauma and adversity.

At the event we agreed to host a follow up event to take the next step towards collaboration between those of us who believe it really is time for real change.

This meeting has limited space and is aimed at people who, as individuals or representatives of an organisation / network, are:

- ★ Inspired by some of the discussions from our April conference.
- ★ Committed to working alongside us, and our allies, to build on our last event to plan a campaign.
- ★ Willing to put time, effort and passion into making this happen.
