

Would you like to be part of a research study?

My name is Steph and I am doing a project on the cultural understandings of hearing voices. I am looking for African-Caribbean/Black British men who would like to take part in a study.

Are you:

- currently hearing a voice(s) OR have had the experience of hearing a voice(s) in the last two years
- identify as African-Caribbean or Black British

What is the study about?

- The experience of African-Caribbean/Black British men who hear voices.
- We may talk about what it is like to hear a voice(s), how you cope, your personal identity, your community.

What would I have to do in the study?

- 1 interview, with me the researcher (for approx. 60-75 minutes).
- The interview will happen at a place and time convenient to you e.g. in a quiet space, at a local centre.

Is the study confidential? Yes the study is anonymous and confidential. This means that no names or identifying features will be in the study. All information will be kept securely and you can withdraw from the study at any time.

All participants will be offered a £10 voucher for their participation.

If you would like some more information about the study or are interested in taking part, please contact me on

email:                    s.minchin@herts.ac.uk

or CALL:                01707 286322 **

Thank you! Steph
